

Supreme Purpose to Give Public Service

Judge R. L. Williams, the Democratic nominee for governor, spoke as follows to the state convention in Oklahoma City:

"I am mindful of the great honor that has come to me on the part of the Democracy of this state. I am mindful of the partiality of my friends, but through that partiality comes to me the loyal support of every good democrat in this state.

"Now, what does that call for at my hands? That means that I am to love the Democratic party and be faithful toward it. That means that I am to be true to every democrat in this state as well as to every citizen of Oklahoma. That is the kind of public service that this nomination requires, not only of the head of the ticket, but of every man on the ticket. This is the kind of public service and public devotion that is to give the people of this state a great government and good government, and silence the mouths of those that would put stand-patters in power on false pretenses and deceit.

"Where was the head of the Republican ticket and the men who are promoting that ticket when we battled for statehood and assembled at Guthrie to write the constitution and give the people of this state local self government? They were the men against statehood; they were the men against the adoption of the constitution, and fought against it. That is the way they planned and devised, and they said the men who assembled there were crazy and a menace to good government.

"Now, you can't expect those men to find anything good in the history of the record of the Democratic party of this state. What they want to do is to get in power and get to the pie counter that they held in the plutocratic days when corporations ruthlessly ruled this country, and if they would get into power in this state under the pretenses that they are the friends to the farmer, they would put the corporate power into control again.

"I feel sure that the people of this great state are going to elect the Democratic ticket. The men on this ticket for the next four years are going to do the work. We are going together like brothers and have economy. I am going to meet them hand in hand and we will have economy in this state.

"But I say to every one of them, they will not have any surplus employees in their departments. I will veto every appropriation for such purposes. Now, I want to say to all you fellows who want jobs. I love you, and will help you to get jobs in the private walks of life, but you are not going to get any job at the expense of the taxpayers unless the job is needed.

"We are going to have competent men in service in Oklahoma, the kind they have in the private business institutions in this state. Now, I am going to the people and appeal to every good man to march with this standard. The man who thinks he is going to support this ticket and get two to one out of the taxpayers may just as well lay down. I mean that. I am going to love all these fellows, but I am going to love public duty more.

"I have not stood for putting the plank in this platform that will destroy machine government and put it out of business without a purpose. When I go to the governor's office I will not be shackled with promises. I have taken on myself no shackles for the public good of Oklahoma. I will tell you that the supreme and paramount purpose of the men that aspire to public office shall be to render public service and not to exploit themselves personally. This is the kind of service the people of Oklahoma demand. In Oklahoma this ticket is going to do that. We are not going to war. We are not going to have discord. We may pass a little but that will be alright, it will be on the side of the people and on the side of right, and on the side of God and on the side of home, and on the side of humanity, and on the side of great uplift. That is the kind of government we will have in Oklahoma the next four years under the Democratic administration."

CITY ADOPTS THE NEW FIRE ORDINANCES

Every Ordinance Recommended by Oklahoma Inspection Bureau, Tending to Decrease the Fire Hazard in Fire Zone Passed. Means Reduction in Fire Insurance Rates.

The city council at its meeting Tuesday night passed six ordinances as recommended by the Oklahoma Inspection Bureau, for the lessening of fire hazards in the fire limits of the city, which have been duly published this week and which will take effect as provided by law, in thirty days, from publication.

Ordinance No. 401 Regulates the storage and handling of certain explosives within the city, such as gunpowder, blasting powder, giant powder, gun cotton, Nitro-glycerine, dynamite and dynamite caps.

Ordinance No. 402 Regulates the storage, sale and use of naphtha, gasoline and benzine within the city limits and stipulates what sort of a receptacle must be used in handling of the explosives, and in what manner they must be stored.

Ordinance No. 403 Known as the Motion Picture Ordinance, regulates the installation, operation and maintenance of picture shows, both as to booths and audience rooms, as regards illumination, power, storage of films and combustibles, and arrangement of fixtures and exits.

Ordinance No. 404 Known as the Electrical Wiring Ordinance regulates the installation and inspection of electrical and apparatus in the city, and prescribes rules governing such installations.

All of the ordinances provide that the Chief of the Fire Department is empowered to make inspections under each, and upon his report is based the decision as to whether the ordinances are being complied with.
